Last Monday the school went on our excursion to Sydney. We caught the plane from Canberra to Sydney and it was my first time on a plane.

When we got to Sydney we caught a taxi to the Park Royal hotel and checked in to room numbers 429, 430 and 431 on the 4th floor. Then we walked to the Power House Museum and after that we had lunch.

At the Power House Will’s favourite thing was the traffic lights and mine was the old shops where you could see how thing were; like to shop in the 1800’s.

After lunch we caught a ferry to Luna Park but it was closing so we got some afternoon tea and caught the ferry back to Darling Harbour. When we went back to our rooms we all had a rest and then met down in the lobby to go to dinner.

We had dinner at a Darling Harbour restaurant called Cyren. I had calamari rings and chips. After dinner we walked back and we went to bed.

The next day Mum, Julie and I went to McDonalds for breakfast. We all met in the lobby at 9:00 o’clock and caught the ferry to Taronga Zoo. My favourite animals were the giraffes, the elephants and the pygmy hippo. For lunch I had chips and nuggets and Will had the same.

When we finished lunch we had a look at the elephants and caught the ferry to Circular Quay. Then we went up in the lift to the top of Centrepoint Tower (Mrs Doyle didn’t like it much). Will and I tried to use the telescope but it wasn’t working. When we got down from the tower we went to look for shoes for me and then went back to the hotel, had a shower and then went to meet in the lobby. While I was waiting, I was playing the computer with Will. For dinner that night we went to the Meat and Wine Compan. I had a delicious chicken burger with chips.

The next day we had pancakes for breakfast down at the Wharf and I did not like it one bit! It tasted like oranges to me.

After breakfast we went to the Aquarium. I liked the dugong the best and Will liked the seahorses. When we were finished in the Aquarium we walked across the bridge to the Maritime Museum. First we went on the tall ship and it was my favourite. It was a replica of the Endeavour. Secondly I went up in the lighthouse with James, Julie and mum. Finally we went on the H.M.S Vampire warship. Then we had lunch and had a look inside the museum building. After that Mrs Doyle, Mum and I went to the Chinese Gardens and took some photos and went back to the hotel, played the computers and got ready for dinner. For dinner I had calamari and chips then went to Matilda the musical, it was the best thing we did on the excursion!

The next day we all checked out of the hotel and then we caught the train to Canberra, a taxi to Canberra airport, got in our cars and drove home.
